attracted to. Not only is he a rough, tattooed biker, but their parents are married. So why can't she seem to control herself at all? I hate him... When Karly is forced to move in with the father she never knew, she didn't expect a tattooed bad boy to become her step brother, and she certainly didn't expect to feel anything for him. I must have her... Leo never hears the word 'no', all the ladies want him. His reputation and racing skills ensure that he's always high in demand, so when his sweet country girl step-sister turns him down he can't stand it. It becomes a game to him, and as with all games there can only be one winner... Brother Blue It's their parents' anniversary, and things are about to heat up! Kathy When my Mom re-married a sedate man from the suburbs, I never expected his son to be such a wild card. He showed up a year after their wedding, sexy, confident and frustrating and no matter what I try, I can't find it in my heart to hate him. Mom wants us to bond, but I don't think this was quite what she had in mind... Alex My Dad can do better than this and I want nothing to do with their family- especially my step sister, Kathy. But when my bike breaks down on the way to my Dad's anniversary celebration, I'm stuck with her. I should hate her, but it's hard to hate a woman with a body that won't quit and more spark than I've seen in a long time. Maybe this isn't the worst thing that has happened to me. Shadows When Whitney Shearing comes home to bury her grandfather, she finds that secrets, rivalries, and love all run deep within the Shadows of Chaos Motorcycle Club. Facing her family and the Shadows of Chaos Motorcycle Club was the last thing Whitney Shearing planned to do when she returned to Cedar Breeze to bury her Pawpaw. Top of her list of people to avoid was her step-brother Julian Danes. Their relationship had been close for as long as she could remember, but when his ex-girlfriend didn't get her way, she ended up chasing Whitney right out of town. Whitney finds her way to becoming the woman she needs to be, only after her mother throws her into the fire, asking her to take over the family bar where the Shadows meet. Her step-father, and Vice President of the club, has very little faith in her abilities and does nothing but hinder her from the start. The simple task of running the place for her mother, turns into a labor of love which blossoms into so much more as Whitney's bond with Julian deepens. But how will her secrets make him feel once they're revealed? Whitney's got a lot more to prove than just her place in a family running with the Shadows. Alien Summer Blaze

When 27-year-old Erin Bradley went to spend her summer at the beautiful, peaceful lake house that her new stepdad had recently bought, she had no idea that she would actually have to put up with a creepy (though gorgeous) stepbrother who looked more like a thug than the IT professional he claimed to be. How could she relax and heal her broken heart when he was always around? But after Kale saved her from almost getting raped by her no-good ex-boyfriend, they started to be friends. Opening up to each other deepened their feelings and led them to take the relationship to another level. Erin had never felt happier! It was like living in their very own paradise without a care in the world.

But then, she started noticing strange things about him- how he always seemed to appear when she was in danger, how he would heal from a wound in a snap, how he could vanish into thin air... Furthermore, when Erin's mother and Kale's father got back earlier from their honeymoon in order to have some family bonding time with them, Erin couldn't help being consumed by guilt. Having a summer affair with her stepbrother was one thing. Falling in love with him was another. It was dead wrong. Or was it? Would Erin still feel the same way when she discovers his real identity? Would she even stand up for them or simply settle for brotherly love?

Spending Counterfiet Frank Fleming

The Sabatini Family books 1-3 Book One Dominic Any minute I'm going to wake up from this nightmare. Being tied up and thrown in the trunk of a car doesn't happen in real life. Except the silk tie around my wrists feels very real. And my father, Johnny Conti, the head of the Outfit, is telling me to be a good girl—that I'm to be the wife of the man who tied me up and has me over his wide shoulder. Some women might swoon over gorgeous Dominic Sabatini with his blue eyes, dimples, and muscled body in a silk suit. Not me. Those are just distractions from who, what he really is: a ruthless killer with blood on his hands and ice in his veins. There is no way Dominic could actually want to marry me. A virgin, curvy, buried in an all-girls Catholic boarding school for most of my life and seventeen years younger than him. He's marrying so far beneath him it's absurd. But Dominic growls I belong to him and he keeps what is his. Book Two Tony

Sometimes I lay awake at night wishing I had killed her from the beginning that I never took her into my bed, my home, and my life. A Sabatini may be a lot of things: an asshole, rude, ruthless, even a killer. But one thing we never are is sloppy, not with our money, not our business, and especially not with our bodies. Until the moment I got sloppy with the most dangerous thing I could: a woman. I'm third generation in the Outfit. I've killed more than my share of men, have had more than a few guns held to my head. Christy wasn't the first person who tried to kill me, she wasn't the last, and I'm sure there will be more in the future. I knew how we started was messed up. I'm old enough to be her father. She was thirty to my fifty, I should have spanked her, taken the gun away from her, and killed her the way I planned. She wanted me dead to pay for her childhood trauma. The way I saw it, I've done a lot of messed up things but I wasn't to blame for what she went through. If she wanted me dead, there was only one thing for me to do: kill her before she could kill me. Only the moment I laid eyes on her everything changed: the plan, me, her. When I put the ring on her finger and she promised forever I believed we had a future. There was no hint I would wake up the next morning and find her gone. I tried to let her go, I can't. She promised forever, I'm holding her to it. It doesn't matter how far she's gone. I will find her. Christy belongs to me, and a Sabatini keeps what is his. Book Three Luca Luca Sabatini saved me from the back of a truck with other women on our way to be sold into sex trafficking, but who will save me from him? He tells me I belong to him, that he won't let me go. I shouldn't want to belong to him, yet a longing I don't understand thrums through me I cannot deny. Except it's not safe for either of us. I climbed into the back of the truck of my own free will because I'm running from a fate far worse. For the first time in my life, I feel safe with Luca. He promises no one will ever hurt me again, he will protect me from what I'm running from, he'll kill anyone who is a threat to me. I believe him, he's run Vegas for the Outfit for almost as long as I've been alive. Only the man I'm running from has an entire army of men behind him. If I thought there was a way Luca could go up against him and survive I would stay but others have tried and paid with not just their lives but the lives of their family. I could never live with myself if Luca and his family ended up dead because of me. When I'm found the reckoning is one of bullets and blood just as I feared. Once the smoke clears, who will be left standing?
