 "Geotechnical Slope Analysis" by Robin N. Chowdhury ... This paper is concerned with the major achievements in geotechnical slope analysis and the challenges for further advancement in the 21st century. New developments of great value have occurred over the past few decades for carrying out both site-specific and regional studies. These include advanced limit Geotechnical analysis of slopes and landslides ...
 Scope. Slope stability within urban areas, including along roads and railway lines; Development of Geographic Information System (GIS) based landslide inventories; Study of 3 significant landslide sites within the Illawarra region, NSW, Australia; The development of modern techniques to assess landslide susceptibility and hazard and the preparation of maps showing zones of landslide ...
