Headline

It's been three years and The Dean Family has been moving on the best they can after the upheaval and revelations brought about by the youngest Dean Kevin's murder and the reveal of his killer. In the follow up to ""Memoirs of an Ebony Cover Family,"" the Deans return with their lives forever changed, as they ready themselves for a wedding, which encourages Patriarch Zechariahs and Matriarch Jordan-Campbell to go down memory lane as to how they met, fell in love, and got married. This foray into the past will also expose a deep dark secret that will change the course of all of their lives indefinitely.

This is a spin-off from the Eternal Flames and Eternal Flames Maddox series. You don't have to have read any of them to read this series. When Ezra finds out the truth of why his mate has kept him at a distance, he promises to make changes to ensure his mates safety and prove to Jewel how much he loves him. Jewel is thrilled that Ezra sticks to his word and let's the walls around his heart shatter, allowing Ezra in completely. But just as he finds out about a special gift that will bring them closer together, someone kidnaps Jewel. Rebel Rose (Volume 1) Rosetta Books

Michele's lack of focus in life hasn't bothered her, until the day she finds herself with mounting credit card debt, unable to afford her rent, and without a job. While her meddling family questions how she can end up in this predicament, at the age of 29, and single to boot, Michele doesn't want to admit the truth. All she wants to do is sew. Faced with the prospect of moving back into her parents' house, Michele throws a Hail Mary pass and applies for a TV design contest, Made for Me. In order to win the contest, Michele will have to compete with nine other contestants to design the new wardrobe for Duchess Maryn Medrovovich, who's about to marry Prince Stephan of the United

Republic of Montabago. While in the seclusion of the show, Michele starts to realize where her focus in life should be, and what's truly important to her. However, a dashing competitor might just cause her to lose her focus once and for all. Can Michele keep her eye on the prize while being true to herself?

Stone Arch Books
When life goes sideways, embracing the adventure is the fastest way to set things right. One day I was just a widow facing the prospect of an empty nest, living a life that was anything but enchanted. The next, I had discovered my magical roots, and my rightful place as the Guardian of the portal between the Faery and Earth. There was shock. And there was fear. After all, no one plans to start over at forty-five. I intended to grow old with my husband. I thought we'd live an ordinary life. So I'll be damned if I'm going to waste this opportunity to live in a world I always thought was imaginary. I'm half-witch, half-faery, and facing dangers as real as the ache in my bad knee. Ibuprofen and caffeine keep me going, and I could do this for the rest of my life. Whoever thinks my family home is an easy mark better take notice: the new Guardian in town isn't going down without a fight. After all, she's already learned to let go of her simple existence and believe in the extraordinary power inside of her. What could possibly stop her now? Reviving Luca Punked Books Farah and her best friend, Allie Liu, are getting excited to turn in their applications to the Magnet Academy, where they both hope to attend sixth grade. But when new girl Dana Denver shows up, Farah's world is turned upside down. As Dana starts bullying Farah's little brother, Samir, Farah

 begins to second-guess
 her choice to leave him behind at Harbortown
 Elementary/Mi ddle School.
 Determined to handle it on her own, Farah comes up with a plan--a plan that involves lying to those closest to her.
 Will her lies catch up with her, or can Farah find a way to defeat the bully and rock fifth grade?

 This book

concludes the saga of how the author
 dealt with the mortgage crisis by working with the banks,
 real estate brokers, and a bankruptcy
 attorney,
 while meeting
 with other
 middle income
 homeowners in trouble and with activist
 groups
 fighting
 foreclosures.
 The final chapter
 describes what the author learned in navigating
 the system,
 selling her
 home, renting
 in San Francisco, and becoming successful again. The book has

 Sam Hendry is not looking forward to starting at her
 new school.
 Things go from bad to worse as the day of truth
 arrives and all of her fears
 come true... and then some. When Sam meets a different

group of people who immediately accept her as a friend, she begins to feel more positive. With her new friends and interests, will Sam finally feel able to face the bully who taunts her, and to summon up the courage to perform on stage?

It came as a shock, when self-styled 'ghetto queen, ' Geneva, was contacted by lawyers who claimed that

Stanley Walters, the deceased uptown financier, was her father. His will contained several conditions that had to be met before she could inherit what was left to her. One condition was that she had to live with her sister, a girl who was the same age as Geneva, for a full year to forge sisterly bonds. Geneva left Froggie, her 'ghetto don, ' behind and found herself in the rarified atmosphere of uptown living. She had to contend with Pamela, her father's widow, and the attention of a suave uptowner, Justin, who was determined that she should forget her past and move on with him.

** Life is all about new beginnings Early one summer morning Isabel and her eleven-year-old daughter River walk across Regent's Park. They come across a rain-soaked man sitting alone on a bench and ask him if he's okay. But he doesn't know. In fact he doesn't know the answer to any of their questions - not even his own name. Urged on by her daughter Isabel takes the man to the hospital she works at, hoping that will be the end of it. But when the tests show there's nothing physically wrong with him, and yet he still can't remember who he is, she realises she can't walk away. Isabel made a promise to River that they would help this man, but with no way to identify him Isabel begins to worry about what he past secrets his memory loss might be hiding. Can they trust him? Why do readers LOVE Virginia Macgregor? Dorothy Lee Hale states: "I am slightly embarrassed that the title of my book is New Beginnings. This expression is used everywhere, but the idea and the title were in my mind for many years. The time is four hundred years ago and the places England and Virginia. Most of the characters have new beginnings in place or understanding . I was working at the Orlando Public Library at the time I planned this story, surrounded by many biographies of the historical characters of the time, and visited England and Jamestown more than once. Indiana University courses in European and American history, with English composition helped me greatly." She wrote the following to her nephew who edited her manuscript. "I could not have written this when I began planning. It needed my own growth in our faith. Now I want to share it with others. I tried to show our need to come to an understanding in families and with other races and nationalities. I think you and your siblings are a wonderful example, with your bonding and re-unions. I wish all families could accomplish this. What a wonderful world it would be!"

 When your life crumbles around you, it's hard to find something to be thankful for. Nevertheless, Gabby Marshall is determined to start anew in sunny Miami. New city, new job, and two new interesting roommates bring lots of new opportunities for a fresh start. As well as some challenges and surprises. Gabby's putting her heart and soul into her new career, without the distraction of love getting in the way. Yet she keeps crossing paths with the gorgeous and welcoming Theo Jorgenson. Maybe Gabby could make one little exception and allow Theo in

... except her new roommate and Theo are sworn enemies. Life in Miami could be promising ... or it could fall apart. Again. Fans of the Golden Girls will love this modern, romantic comedy twist! New Beginnings iUniverse What happens when your best hope for the future is through the past? Voice-over artist Alice avoids telling the truth. It's not lying, exactly, and the freedom of reinvention makes those tough years in the past a little easier to bear. So when she meets writer Clayton Miller, she recognizes the suspicious signs of someone who wants to shrug off his old life. Untangling the web of secrets they've constructed creates an unlikely friendship- until Alice discovers that Clayton has betrayed her in the worst possible way. The author of fifteen international

New

Beginnings: A

Bipolar's

Journey to

Regain Her

God-Given

Identity

presents a

bird's-eye

view of the author's life.

Faith Bonyak

penned this memoir over a

seven-year

period as an overview of her life

dealing with

bipolar and

borderline

personality

disorder, before there was a name for it. The first part of the book is about all the different identities I lived under to help myself deal with the issues I was undergoing. The final part is the journey to my New Beginning. It is all the things I've learned along the way to help me see what God really had planned for me. Faith's story was written to help others overcome what she has experienced. I wanted to show others that you can lead a normal life and have this disorder. I want to be open and honest about how this disorder affects me on a daily basis and how I make my marriage and parenting work, even with the limitations it provides to me. Once again, I want to show others like me that they're not alone! I've been in their shoes when I've been manic. I understand the physical pain the cycle of depression brings. This is not something to be ashamed of, and it's something that can be treated if they let themselves get the help that is out there.
