 Given (a.k.a. Dr. Duke), founder of Parkwood Capital, points out in No-Hype Options Trading: Myths, Realities, and Strategies That Really Work, "The casino establishes a game where the casino holds a statistical edge.... Your model for trading options should be the casino owner, not the player at the tables."

 Myth #6: Only options sellers make money. The truth is that both option buyers and sellers can profit from option trading. If only sellers made money, there would be no buyers. With no buyers there would be no market. While options selling does have an edge in many cases, it also exposes you to Negative Gamma.
