"Bernard, a deaf young woodworker, is drawn into an old growth forest in rural Quebec. Summoned there by the spirits of his Iroquois and European great-grandparents, he witnesses a colossal 800-year-old cedar fall literally at his feet, and nearly loses his life salvaging a portion of the great tree to craft two guitars worthy of the music he hears.

Across two centuries and four continents, this tale of family, spirits, and music, paints upon the world's large canvas an intimate story of enduring love and how the mysterious forces that divide us can also bring us together"--Amazon.com.

Christina's Rose of a Tear is a collection of poems dedicated to one individual that has helped me through the worst time of my life and has reopened my passion, soul, and heart. She inspired me to write this book in one day. To show that I can still write poems about sorrow and love. It captures my passion for life for one person. The poems reflect my sorrows but mostly my love for one person that put me back together when I was at my lowest. She showed me it was okay to love again. Please enjoy the poems and the passion that are captured in the book.

 This is a beginning mandolin method. the contents of this book present the fundamentals of playing mandolin in a sequence making the material logical and easy to learn. the primary difference between this method and many others is that this book is written for seniors wanting to learn to play the mandolin. While many would say that getting on in years is only a state of mind, the fact is that some of the body parts (including the eyes) don't function quite the same as they did in younger years. with this in mind, the font has purposely been enlarged. Care has been taken to select repertoire familiar and appealing to a more mature audience and attention has been given to the pacing of the material. Accompanying CD includes all songs taught in the book.

Love's voice comes through very eloquently via well-written pieces that speak to the deepest part of you-the heart of you-that is unable to do anything but listen. Love's voice will sometimes whisper and will sometimes scream, but at all times, it will be recognizable, because love does have its own distinct, unmistakable language-a language that captivates and keeps us transfixed. As mere mortals, no matter how hard we try, we can never, ever be happy without love in our lives.

This book will speak to all that loves encompasses, leaving the reader happy to be in love if they are in a relationship and wanting to be in one if they are not. LoveSpeaks will make the in-love reader even more in love with love, and make those who are a little mad at love remember that love is pure and therefore incapable of causing hurt, and that, in truth, love never hurts anyone;

people do.

Music of the Soul guides the reader through principles, techniques, and exercises for incorporating music into grief counseling, with the end goal of further empowering the grieving person. Music has a unique ability to elicit a whole range of powerful emotional responses in people - even so far as altering or enhancing one's mood - as well as physical reactions. This interdisciplinary text draws in equal parts from contemporary grief/loss theory, music therapy research, historical examples of powerful music, case studies, and both self-reflecting and teaching exercises. Music is as much about beginnings as endings, and thus the book moves through life's losses into its new beginnings, using musical expression to help the bereaved find meaning in loss and hurt, and move forward with their lives. With numerous exercises and examples for implementing the use of music in grief counseling, the book offers a practical and flexible approach to a broad spectrum of mental health practitioners, from thanatologists to hospice staff, at all levels of professional training and settings.
