The fourteen simple unison melodies in this collection, designed for use with lower elementary students in Sunday school or Christian schools, will provide a wonderful opportunity to introduce some of Jesus teachings to children through song. Themes including peace, trust, the importance of keeping promises, positive behavior, and the undying love of Jesus are featured, as are songs for Advent, Palm Sunday, Easter, and Communion. Theres even a touching call to prayer that could be used in the worship service. Each song draws its inspiration from a bible verse, a portion of which Mark has set rhythmically to help it serve as a memory verse. Themed, reproducible coloring pages and worksheets are also provided for use with each lesson.

Can an orthodox Christian, committed to the historic faith of the Church and the authority of the Bible, be a universalist? Is it possible to believe that salvation is found only by grace, through faith in Christ, and yet to maintain that in the end all people will be saved? Can one believe passionately in mission if one does not think that anyone will be lost forever? Could universalism be consistent with the teachings of the Bible? In The Evangelical Universalist the author argues that the answer is 'yes!' to all of these questions. Weaving together philosophical, theological, and biblical considerations, he seeks to show that being a committed universalist is consistent with the central teachings of the biblical texts and of historic Christian theology.

I loved Sunday school because I loved the songs. The songs we sang during my weekly forty-five-minute Sunday school hour taught me about Jesus and love and salvation. Songs like "Deep and Wide" taught me about the immensity of God's love for me. "This Little Light of Mine" reminded me how Jesus gave me the responsibility to shine my light so others could learn about Him. "The B-I-B-L-E" helped me to understand the importance of reading God's Word and using it to guide my life. "Joy in My Heart" instilled in me that I could have joy, no matter what, because I had Jesus. "The Apostle's Song" not only listed the name of Jesus' disciples but convinced me that I could be Jesus' disciple, too. Christians have a responsibility to search the Scriptures, moving from basic biblical truths to more advanced principles of Christianity, all the while growing in the knowledge and understanding of Jesus Christ. With that being said, however, I think it is helpful as maturing Christians to be reminded of simple truths. It is these basic truths of God's Word that guide us, encourage us, anchor us, and serve as a solid foundation for more study and greater contemplation of Biblical concepts and truths. Children need to learn that "Jesus loves me, this I know," but adults need to be reminded of this beautiful truth as well. I hope you enjoy this adventure as you remember songs you sang as children and hear them in a new and more profound way as maturing Christian adults.
