ANSWER KEY PDF isobars are lines that connect areas of the same air pressure drawn on a weather map. Isotherms are lines that connect points having same temperature on a weather map. Asked in Earth Sciences What is the difference between isobars and isotherms - Answers Isotherms and isobars are lines on weather maps which represent patterns of pressure and temperature, respectively. They show how temperature and pressure are changing over space and so help describe the large-scale weather patterns across a region in the map. Why do I care? Isotherms and isobars make it easier to read and analyze weather maps. Isotherms and Isotherms | North Carolina Climate Office Isotherms: lines of constant pressure. A line drawn on a weather map connecting points of equal pressure is called an isobar. The isobars are generated from mean sea level pressure reports and the pressure values are given in millibars. The diagram below depicts a pair of isobars. What is isobars on a weather map? | Answers Drive Isotherms are lines that connect areas of the same air pressure drawn on a weather map.
