Desa mengalami pergeseran kedudukan, peran dan tata kelola seiring berubahnya kebijakan penyelenggaraan pemerintahan. Desa pernah berkedudukan sebagai daerah otonom tingkat III dan saat ini kembali menjadi bagian dari Daerah Kabupaten/Kota. Peran dan tata kelola pemerintahan desa yang dahulu lebih dominan berperan sebagai perpanjangan tangan dan bagian dari pemerintah daerah telah bergeser karena mempunyai kewenangan untuk mengatur dan mengurus kepentingan masyarakat desa berdasarkan hak asal usul dan hak tradisionalnya, sebagaimana yang dimandatkan dalam Pasal 18B ayat (2) Undang-Undang Dasar Negara Republik Indonesia Tahun 1945. Dengan konstruksi menggabungkan fungsi local self government dan self-governing community, Desa mempunyai kewenangan yang sangat luas untuk menyelenggarakan pemerintahan desa dan memajukan adat, tradisi, dan budaya yang telah hidup pada masyarakat desa. Kewenangan desa sebagaimana dimaksud mencakup kewenangan berdasarkan hak asal-usul, kewenangan lokal berskala desa, kewenangan yang ditugaskan oleh Pemerintah/Pemerintah Daerah, dan kewenangan lain yang ditugaskan oleh Pemerintah/Pemerintah Daerah berdasarkan ketentuan peraturan perundang-undangan. Pelaksanaan berbagai kewenangan tersebut dapat dikuatkan dengan penetapan produk hukum desa (Peraturan Desa dan/atau Peraturan Kepala Desa).

To many education students, Russian and/or Chinese education is at the same time their introduction to Marxism, and many students go no further. This book sets the record straight by giving a thorough introduction to the writings of Marx himself as they relate to education. It shows what Marxism implies for education, as aim, method and content. It then proceeds to compare educational developments in the former USSR and China in the light of this analysis, attempting to answer the question as to how Marxist this has been, in the schools and outside them.

This widely praised work provides a framework for the many voices calling for the reaffirmation of democratic values, citizenship, and service in the public interest. The expanded edition includes an all-new chapter that addresses the practical issues of applying these ideals in actual, real-life situations. "The New Public Service, Expanded Edition" is organized around a set of seven core principles: serve citizens, not customers; seek the public interest; value citizenship and public service above entrepreneurship; think strategically, act democratically; recognize that accountability isn't simple; serve, rather than steer; and value people, not just productivity. The book asks us to think carefully and critically about what public service is, why it is important, and what values ought to guide what we do and how we do it. It celebrates what is distinctive, important and meaningful about public service and considers how we might better live up to those ideals and values. All students and serious practitioners in public administration and public policy should read this book. While debates about public policy issues will surely continue, this compact, clearly written volume provides an important framework for public service based on and fully integrated with citizen discourse and the public interest.

Dalam proses pembangunan desa, faktor yang juga perlu diketahui adalah adanya bantuan dana desa yang diprioritaskan untuk pembangunan kawasan pedesaan. Anggaran Dana Desa dari Pemerintah Pusat tentunya harus dimanfaatkan setepat-tepatnya guna mencapai kemajuan desa. Disisi lain, pemerintah juga sebaiknya tidak hanya memberikan bantuan dalam bentuk fisik saja yaitu uang, namun pemerintah juga dapat memberikan fasilitas, seperti pembangunan Pasar Desa untuk memberikan tempat bagi masyarakat desa memperjualbelikan produk-produk mereka dengan begitu peningkatan perekonomian desa akan lebih terasa. Selain dana desa, terdapat program lain yang jug dapat membantu pengembangan desa yaitu adanya program inovasi desa. Dalam program inovasi desa, terdapat beberapa aspek yang ditekankan yaitu: aspek ekonomi, aspek sumber daya manusia, dan aspek infrastruktur. Sebagai contohnya , fokus dalam buku ini adalah membahas mengenai inovasi pasar kawasan yang ada di Kabupaten Jepara. Pada bab 1 juga disinggung terkait dengan permasalahan yang ada di Kabupaten Jepara. Namun pada intinya tentu pemerintah dan juga perangkat desa harus mampu membuat prioritas permasalahan yang harus lebih dahulu ditangani. Secara sekilas dalam bab 1 juga dijelaskan tentang gambaran pasar kawasan di Kabupaten Jepara. Menyambung dari sub bab sebelumnya, pada dasarnya program inovasi pedesaan yang dilakukan di Provinsi Jawa Tengah adalah dibentuknya pasar kawasan. Salah satunya adalah pasar kawasan yang ada di Kabupaten Jepara, tepatnya berada di Desa Pendem. Tentu saja dari pemerintah juga mengalokasikan dana dalam pembangunan pasar kawasan tersebut.

Why are carefully designed, sensible policies too often not adopted or implemented? When they are, why do they often fail to generate development outcomes such as security, growth, and equity? And why do some bad policies endure? World Development Report 2017: Governance and the Law addresses these fundamental questions, which are at the heart of development. Policy making and policy implementation do not occur in a vacuum. Rather, they take place in complex political and social settings, in which individuals and groups with unequal power interact within changing rules as they pursue conflicting interests. The process of these interactions is what this Report calls governance, and the space in which these interactions take place, the policy arena. The capacity of actors to commit and their willingness to cooperate and coordinate to achieve socially desirable goals are what matter for effectiveness. However, who bargains, who is excluded, and what barriers block entry to the policy arena determine the selection and implementation of policies and, consequently, their impact on development outcomes. Exclusion, capture, and clientelism are manifestations of power asymmetries that lead to failures to achieve security, growth, and equity. The distribution of power in society is partly determined by history. Yet, there is room for positive change. This Report reveals that governance can mitigate, even overcome, power asymmetries to bring about more effective policy interventions that achieve sustainable improvements in security, growth, and equity. This happens by shifting the incentives of those with power, reshaping their preferences in favor of good outcomes, and taking into account the interests of previously excluded participants. These changes can come about through bargains among elites and greater citizen engagement, as well as by international actors supporting rules that strengthen coalitions for reform.

The global trend toward democratization of the last two decades has been accompanied by the resurgence of various politics of "identity/difference." From nationalist and ethnic revivals in the countries of east and central Europe to the former Soviet Union, to the politics of cultural separatism in Canada, and to social movement politics in liberal western-democracies, the negotiation of identity/difference has become a challenge to democracies everywhere. This volume brings together a group of distinguished thinkers who rearticulate and reconsider the foundations of democratic theory and practice in the light of the politics of identity/difference. In Part One Jürgen Habermas, Sheldon S. Wolin, Jane Mansbridge, Seyla Benhabib, Joshua Cohen, and Iris Marion Young write on democratic theory. Part Two--on equality, difference, and public representation--contains essays by Anne Phillips, Will Kymlicka, Carol C. Gould, Jean L. Cohen, and Nancy Fraser; and Part Three--on culture, identity, and democracy--by Chantal Mouffe, Bonnie Honig, Fred Dallmayr, Joan B. Landes, and Carlos A. Forment. In the last section Richard Rorty, Robert A. Dahl, Amy Gutmann, and Benjamin R. Barber write on whether democracy needs philosophical foundations.

Indonesia is experiencing an historic and dramatic shift in political and economic power from the centre to the local level. The collapse of the highly centralised Soeharto regime allowed long-repressed local aspirations to come to the fore. The new Indonesian Government then began one of the world's most radical decentralisation programmes, under which extensive powers are being devolved to the district level. In every region and province, diverse popular movements and local claimants to state power are challenging the central authorities. This book is the first comprehensive coverage on decentralisation in Indonesia. It contains contributions from leading academics and policy-makers on a wide range of topics relating to democratisation, devolution and the blossoming of local-level politics.

This book examines and explains the intellectual capital reporting practices, with a human capital focus, of firms located in the developing nation of Sri Lanka. The study ascertains the following: first, to what extent the industry groups, based on the number of shareholders, differ in their ICR practices; and second, to what extent firms in Sri Lanka differ from counterparts in other nations in their intellectual capital reporting practices. An important aspect of this book is looking at the practices from a critical perspective to providing a more balanced view of 'good' and 'bad' effects of intellectual capital. The book meticulously outlines an extensive literature review, research methods, the theoretical perspective, findings with an engaging discussion, and concluding remarks. Indra Abeysekera's fine research project is an impressive contribution to an emerging area of interest throughout academia and industry.

Human resource management (HRM) can aid nonprofit organizations (NPOs) in facing uncertain, changing environments of funding pressures, increasing competition and demand for services as well as internal challenges. As the distinguishing features of NPOs can render the professionalization of HRM different from the private and public sectors, this book fills a gap in the literature by offering an in-depth look at how this distinctive nature of NPOs shapes the development and implementation of their HR practices. Timely and topical, this book addresses the professionalization of HRM in the nonprofit sector using examples from an exploratory multiple case study of NPOs selected across different fields. Not only does it offer both students and practitioners in the field of HRM and nonprofit management a better understanding of the specific challenges for HRM that stem from the management of several, contradictory bottom lines in NPOs, but it also highlights the opportunities that distinguishing nonprofit features create for the development and implementation of HR practices. By illustrating how NPOs can invest in learning and adapting processes that aid them in the alteration of HRM, this book is an essential resource for those involved in designing, implementing and studying HRM in NPOs.

As the countries of East-Central Europe struggle to create liberal democracy and the United States and other Western nations attempt to rediscover their own tarnished civil institutions, Adam Seligman identifies the neglect of the idea of "civil society" as a central concern common to both cultures today. Two centuries after its origins in the Enlightenment, the idea of civil society is being revived to provide an answer to the question of how individuals can pursue their own interests while preserving the greater good of society and, similarly, how society can advance the interests of the individuals who comprise it. However, as Seligman shows, the erosion of the very moral beliefs and philosophical assumptions upon which the idea of civil society was founded makes its revival much more difficult than is generally recognized.
