How the College Introductory Course in United States History in Organized and Taught Rowman & Littlefield

Excerpt from Examination Book in American History and Civics, Vol. 1 The following set of questions and answers in United States History and Civics has been compiled from the New York Regents' examinations given during the past fourteen years. These questions and answers were originally printed in American education and were found exceedingly helpful to teachers. In response to a general demand they have been carefully rearranged and edited and are now presented to the public in booklet form. The dates and statements of facts given have been verified and they are believed to be practically free from error. The chronological order has been in the main followed. Some of the questions: that call for a comparison of facts and events do not follow the order of time. As the questions have been taken from many different examinations, it has been found impossible to avoid a repetition of ideas, but no two questions of exactly the same import are given. Outlines, Recreations AMD Questions (with Answers) in the History of the United States, for Use of Teachers, Normal Schools and Eighth Grade Pupils Questions and Answers on United States History, for the Use of Teachers and Students (Classic Reprint) Home school, middle school, high school, and even college educators will find History By Hollywood an innovative and interesting method of teaching social studies using film as the text. This volume of History By Hollywood uses the films "Last of the Mohicans," "Davy Crockett-King of the Wild Frontier," "Glory," "I Will Fight No More Forever," and "The Wizard of Oz" to teach United States History through the Progressive Era using these films as the "text.." The premise of History by Hollywood is that most students learn, understand, and experience the passion of history best through film. This collection of teaching materials covers ten films for use in United States History spanning from the colonial period to the end of the Twentieth Century. Each film correlates with a goal of the National Standards for Social Studies. The materials consist of a Student's Guide, Teacher's Notes and Talking Points, a Research Lexicon, and a multiple-choice test for each film. The materials are helpful for using these films whether by a novice, experience, or substitute teacher. In 1915, United States President Woodrow Wilson said upon viewing D. W. Griffith's epic film Birth of a Nation "It's like writing history with lightning." He also said of the film that "it's all too true." President Wilson, who was a scholar and former President of Princeton University, had grown up in the post-Civil War South. He had read about the great conflict, and knew many of its participants. Now, because of that film he was able to visualize history. Today, through many films, we can see and hear and feel history as never before. We cannot go back in history but film brings us the next best thing. Whether by biography, saga, or analogy we can closely experience the sights, sounds, and emotions of the past. The premise of History by Hollywood is that most students learn, understand, and experience history more through film than any other media. Film also provides us a chance to examine the limits and biases of those who research and interpret history and also to better examine the lessons of history. History by Hollywood started as a course the author developed and taught as a public high school teacher. The author hopes that you will have as much success using History by Hollywood as he has. The impact on your students can be lasting and profound. McGraw-Hill Education SAT Subject Test U.S. History, Fifth Edition Forgotten Books Barron's Regents Exams and Answers: U.S. History and Government provides essential review for students taking the U.S. History Regents, including actual exams administered for the course, thorough answer explanations, and comprehensive review of all topics. The newly updated edition of this book makes a fine supplement to a college survey course in American history. It opens with the Reconstruction era following the Civil War, then goes on to chronicle the pivotal events of the late nineteenth- and entire twentieth century. It summarizes events surrounding U.S. entry into two World Wars, the Great Depression of the 1930s, the Korean and Vietnam conflicts, the Civil Rights movement, and major events leading to the growth of the United States into the world's leading superpower. All significant events and personalities are briefly summarized under boldfaced topic heads. Review questions appear at the end of each chapter, with answers at the back of the book. Appendices include suggestions for essay questions, quick-check fact lists, a recommended reading list, and a short-entry dictionary of historical terms.
