 The Shepherd S Staff
 The Shepherd's Staff went the extra mile to get to know me and what I believe is God's vision for our church before they began looking for someone who "fit the profile". Greg Allen and his team consistently provided second-mile service in researching candidates—no matter how good the resume might be—to ensure they would be a good fit for our church and our team.

 Secondly, the staff is used to reach out and grab a lamb for close inspection. In this way, it frequently precedes the passing under the rod. The shepherd hooks it by the neck or leg and leads it to where he will examine it. Thirdly, the staff is used in guiding the sheep as they are moving along, because sheep tend to wander off.
 What the Bible says about Function of Shepherd's Staff
 The Shepherd's Rod and Staff. In biblical times, a shepherd consistently used both a rod and a staff to tend the flock. Both were used to protect the sheep, each in a very specific way. The rod was used to fight off wild animals and to count the sheep and direct them.

 A shepherd's crook is a long and sturdy stick with a hook at one end, often with the point flared outwards, used by a shepherd to manage and sometimes catch sheep. In addition, the crook may aid in defending against attack by predators.
 When traversing rough terrain, a crook is an aid to balance. Shepherds may also use the long implement to part thick undergrowth (for example at the edge of a ...

 The Great Shepherd's Rod and Staff

"Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." —Psalm 23:4. IN THE FOURTH AND FIFTH verses of the 23rd Psalm, David expresses a more intimate relationship with the divine Shepherd of Israel than is apparent in the opening verses of this beautiful song of praise to the Lord. In the first three verses, the psalmist speaks in the third person concerning God ...
