Cennini: A

Contemporary

Treatise on

Quattrocento

Painting Mrs.

Merrifield's

translation of

Cennino's

treatise, Il

libro dell' Arte

o Trattato

della Pittura,

the only

English one existing until now, was made from

Tambroni's

Italian edition of the manuscript he found in the Vatican, which was also used for the French edition by Mottez. This MS. of the eighteenth century is deficient in sixteen chapters which are to be found in the two earlier Florentine MSS., the Riccardiana and the Laurentiana. These are Nos. 162-177 inclusive. The translation is often very incorrect, owing perhaps to a want of practical knowledge of the processes; but the style is pleasant, and I have kept as far as possible to the words I had grown accustomed to before I knew the original Italian. The recent German translation by Ilg is made from the Italian edition printed by the Milanesi from the Florentine MSS. in 1859, and was corrected from the MSS. I have used the same Italian edition; and the German edition has been a most valuable book of reference in translating difficult passages. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
