Three mystery novelettes featuring a blind detective and his two trusty German Shepherds by the author of Out of Control. Following the loss of his sight in World War I, ex-intelligence officer Capt. Duncan Maclain honed his other senses and became one of the most successful and well-known private investigators in New York City. These are some of his adventures . . . In "The Silent Whistle," the captain heads west to California with his seeing eye dog Schnucke to advise on a television series about a blind man, but things go south when he discovers the studio head's secretary with a knife in his back . . . In "Melody in Death," the captain is visiting a friend at the Knickerbocker Opera Company with Schnucke when he finds the body of a wealthy benefactor backstage . . . In "The Murderer Who Wanted More," a young artist is on edge after she's attacked in her Manhattan apartment building and almost shot near her aunt's Staten Island mansion. Fortunately, she has one friend whose unique powers of detection come in handy in times like these: Captain Maclain! Baynard Kendrick was the first American to enlist in the Canadian Army during World War I. While in London, he met a blind English soldier whose observational skills inspired the character of Capt. Duncan Maclain. Kendrick was also a founding

Bridget Needham knows first-hand how a Special Ops man can shatter a girl’s heart. She’s still kicking herself over the one that got away... after watching him get down on one knee and propose to someone else. After giving up her career to re-open her aunt’s struggling bed-and-breakfast inn, the last thing she needs is a sexy-as-sin SEAL showing up on her doorstep—especially when the secrets of her past still threaten to keep her from holding onto love. Besides, this guy might have a Greek god bod and an impressively large power drill, but he also has a girlfriend two thousand miles away. Former Navy SEAL Maddox Kerry hadn’t intentionally landed himself in Annapolis during Commissioning Week—the one week when it’s next-to-impossible to find a place to stay. So it’s mission-critical that he convince an adorably awkward innkeeper whose bed-and-breakfast is closed for renovations to let him stay. And hey, if he finds himself hoping for a little more than the customary turn-down service, who can blame him? Yet every time the chemistry sparks between them, she runs for cover. Any other guy would shrug his shoulders and move on. But he can’t walk away when he senses the pain behind her prim exterior. Because Maddox Kerry isn’t any other guy.

Stein Adler: The first time I saw him, he was splitting logs like my filthiest lumberjack fantasy. A Delta Force hero with a heart of gold... hidden behind pecs that should be sculpted in marble. And then there’s that eight-pack that renders me speechless as I stare at him from behind a bush during my vacation. He’s not what I’m looking for. Really. A fling with Stein is the polar opposite of the calm, peaceful week I planned when I booked this trip. His piercing eyes are full of secrets that should make me run for cover. But if he can handle a woman as masterfully as he handles that axe... well, he might be enough to pull me out of my post-divorce gloom. So I’ll strike a deal with him. I can’t resist. It’s not often an accountant like me comes across a man this... fling-worthy.

Christmas in Snowflake Forge Books

"A Ranger, a pilot, and a doctor walk into a bar..." That was pretty much my life in Hawai'i until my two brothers got married. Now I'm the last man standing. Not a problem. With an 8-pack and a Bronze Star, I'm not exactly lacking company in my waterfront condo on Mauna Kea Beach. Toss in my M.D. and the mastery of female anatomy that comes with it, and I can make a woman beg for more. Unless she's Samantha. Samantha's got a life on the mainland that puts her off-limits. So why am I playing tour guide for her... and discovering just how tempting she looks when the turquoise water of Kealakekua Bay soaks her too-skimpy suit? She's the best friend of my sister-in-law. Godmother to my niece. A fling is not in the cards. A hook-up? Impossible. But then, this is Hawai'i. Anything is possible in paradise.

Faking It Kate Aster

You've heard the joke... Know how to figure out if a guy’s a pilot? He'll tell you. Yep. Cocky? Arrogant? Player? That’s generally the impression I like to give women. Outside of my 8-pack and medals for valor, when it comes to women’s expectations of me... I try to keep the bar low enough so that I can roll over it. Until Kaila comes along. She’s like every fantasy I could conjure - that night I made her soul-searing eyes glaze over with passion as she cried out my name... Several times, because I’m very thorough. It should have been enough for me. It’s not. But with my past - and a secret I’ve kept even from my brothers - I know I’m not capable of giving her what she deserves. I know it... .. even with hindsight.
