La educación del alumnado a través de dos (o más) lenguas es uno de los desarrollos más apasionantes de la educación en el mundo hoy día. Esta se encuentra en forma de educación bilingüe en muchos países, ya sea en las etapas pre-escolar, primaria, secundaria o en niveles post-escolares (incluyendo la universidad). Asimismo, la educación bilingüe ofrece potenciales y considerables beneficios, al tiempo que la experiencia de su implementación sugiere internacionalmente que se necesita una cuidada planificación política y una extensa investigación para identificar y establecer las condiciones necesarias para la consecución de su éxito. España está consiguiendo una merecida reputación por su compromiso a gran escala con la innovación y la investigación en este campo, incluyendo en algunos lugares la educación trilingüe. Esta publicación se centra, fundamentalmente, en experiencias españolas de educación bilingüe en forma de español + inglés en la escuela y en la universidad, sin menoscabo de las contribuciones de otros países, que también aparecen recogidas en esta obra. Una característica clave de este libro es el papel de la investigación, gran parte de la cual ha sido llevada a cabo por investigadores y grupos de investigación en España (en muchos casos, colaborando con colegas de otros países), para producir un ingente corpus de evidencias al que los padres, profesores y autoridades regionales y nacionales pueden acercarse para ayudar a la educación bilingüe a asegurarse un futuro positivo y sostenible. Mientras que muchos de los capítulos se presentan en forma de informes provenientes de la investigación sobre educación bilingüe, dos de los capítulos se presentan en forma de entrevistas sobre temas más amplios de educación bilingüe y sobre su posible relación con la comunicación intercultural en la compleja sociedad global en la que vivimos hoy día.

This book offers a thorough and comprehensive review of the lessons learnt from the award-winning 'English in Action' English language teacher development programme, which ran in government primary and secondary schools across Bangladesh from 2008 to 2017. Over the course of nine years the programme involved 51,000 teachers and 20 million school students, demonstrably raising standards of teachers' classroom practice and students' English language attainment, and won the British Council ELTON Award for Local innovation (2013) and Times Higher Education Award for International Impact (2107). The sixteen chapters explore the programme in detail, looking at both the successes and the challenges encountered throughout its course, including the strategies used to address the challenges. The key innovative factors of the programme include: · a positive choice to build on the existing context, such as the lives and experiences of local teachers and the demands of a nationally determined curriculum; · teacher learning taking place in the teachers' own classrooms; · a focus on learning the 'how' of communicative language teaching through reflective practice and peer support; · the use - within a carefully constructed pedagogy - of affordable, readily-available mobile phone technology; · the use of mediated authentic video · a model of teacher development at very large scale that provided a successful alternative to the 'cascade' model; · a partnership with government institutions to ensure that improved practices are maintained beyond the life of the Programme.

This publication was awarded the Jacqueline Ross TOEFL Dissertation Award in 2009. Since its publication in 2001, the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR) has been the most frequently-cited performance standard in language testing in Europe. To help test providers and users with score interpretation in relation to the CEFR levels, the Council of Europe published the 'Manual for relating language examinations to the CEFR'. Even though the linking process set out in the Manual is primarily based on judgements by trained participants, judgement-making in this context remains largely unexplored. The research presented in this book addresses this issue by employing quantitative and qualitative methods. Despite the judges' good understanding of how language ability progresses from lower to higher CEFR levels, it was found that describing test content and examinee performance was not without problems and decision-making was affected by a number of factors that were irrelevant to the judgement task. The results provide a better understanding of judgement-making during the CEFR linking process, which has important implications for examination providers and users of CEFR-aligned test scores. Excellent bridge between general solid-state physics textbook and research articles packed with providing detailed explanations of the electronic, vibrational, transport, and optical properties of semiconductors "The most striking feature of the book is its modern outlook ... provides a wonderful foundation. The most wonderful feature is its efficient style of exposition ... an excellent book." Physics Today "Presents the theoretical derivations carefully and in detail and gives thorough discussions of the experimental results it presents. This makes it an excellent textbook both for learners and for more experienced researchers wishing to check facts. I have enjoyed reading it and strongly recommend it as a text for anyone working with semiconductors ... I know of no better text ... I am sure most semiconductor physicists will find this book useful and I recommend it to them." Contemporary Physics Offers much new material: an extensive appendix about the important and by now well-established, deep center known as the DX center, additional problems and the solutions to over fifty of the problems at the end of the various chapters.
