Two young boys encounter the best and worst of humanity during the Holocaust in this powerful read that USA Today called "as memorable an introduction to the subject as The Diary of Anne Frank." Berlin, 1942: When Bruno returns home from school one day, he discovers that his belongings are being packed in crates. His father has received a promotion and the family must move to a new house far, far away, where there is no one to play with and nothing to do. A tall fence stretches as far as the eye can see and cuts him off from the strange people in the distance. But Bruno longs to be an explorer and decides that there must be more to this desolate new place than meets the eye. While exploring his new environment, he meets another boy whose life and circumstances are very different from his own, and their meeting results in a friendship that has devastating consequences.

Fundamentos Teóricos E Práticos Do Ensino de Geografia NYU Press

O ensino de Geografia vem se caracterizando por buscar novas opções temáticas que possibilitem um contato maior entre os alunos e suas realidades. Nesse processo, novos conteúdos são agregados à ciência geográfica, como o desporto e o turismo. Compreendendo a Geografia como uma ciência de muitos olhares e vários focos, o livro Geografia do desporto e do turismo para sala de aula tem como objetivo analisar as variáveis que possibilitam aos alunos, do ensino médio brasileiro e português, pensarem o desporto e o turismo como novos elementos de uma Geografia que interage e interfere no consumo e no fazer cotidiano. Trata-se de uma obra geográfica que possibilita uma discussão e revisão do tema para o ensino de Geografia em nível médio, apontando sugestões para sua prática. O desporto e o turismo são atividades heterogêneas, decorrentes de uma territorialização que abrange complexas relações, que cativa o mundo e a sociedade, de modo geral, sendo compreendidas como partes integrantes de processos que envolvem a análise espacial e suas caracterizações socioeconômicas, política, cultural e ambiental, elementos por excelência, geográficos.

HARLEQUIN

Lucy lives on the twenty-fourth floor. Owen lives in the basement. It's fitting, then, that they meet in the middle -- stuck between two floors of a New York City apartment building, on an elevator rendered useless by a citywide blackout. After they're rescued, Lucy and Owen spend the night wandering the darkened streets and marveling at the rare appearance of stars above Manhattan. But once the power is back, so is reality. Lucy soon moves abroad with her parents, while Owen heads out west with his father. The brief time they spend together leaves a mark. And as their lives take them to Edinburgh and to San Francisco, to Prague and to Portland, Lucy and Owen stay in touch through postcards, occasional e-mails, and phone calls. But can they -- despite the odds -- find a way to reunite? Smartly observed and wonderfully romantic, Jennifer E. Smith's new novel shows that the center of the world isn't necessarily a place. Sometimes, it can be a person. Geografia do Desporto e do Turismo para Sala de Aula IESDE BRASIL SA

This book displays the striking creativity and profound insight that characterized Freire's work to the very end of his life-an uplifting and provocative exploration not only for educators, but also for all that learn and live.

Evolution of The World Factbook 2018 Em português

Duke University Press Nesse livro, Celso Antunes atualiza algumas ideias desenvolvidas por ele em A sala de aula de geografia e história, obra publicada pela Papyrus em 2001. Agora com foco no trabalho do professor de geografia dos anos iniciais do ensino fundamental, o autor aborda a aprendizagem significativa, as inteligências múltiplas e as competências de duas perspectivas correlatas: seu uso em sala de aula e sua relação com os conteúdos inerentes aos novos conceitos dessa disciplina. Analisando os trabalhos de Ausubel, Gardner e Perrenoud, e apoiado nas linhas pedagógicas de Freinet e Piaget, o autor estabelece, com base nos Parâmetros Curriculares Nacionais, estruturas de relacionamento entre teorias e sugestões práticas desses educadores. Afinal, a escola pode ser um espaço de aprofundamento epistemológico, mas também um ambiente onde aprender a trabalhar e a se relacionar, e o currículo escolar pode ser um meio para estimular a compreensão da realidade, a sensibilidade para a beleza e a educação dos sentimentos. - Papirus Editora

 A modern adaptation of Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice based on the Emmy Award-winning YouTube series, The Lizzie Bennet Diaries. Twenty-four-year-old grad student Lizzie Bennet is saddled with student loan debt and still living at home along with her two sisters—beautiful Jane and reckless Lydia. When she records her reflections on life for her thesis project and posts them on YouTube, she has no idea The Lizzie Bennet Diaries will soon take on a life of their own, turning the Bennet sisters into internet celebrities seemingly overnight. When rich and handsome Bing Lee comes to town, along with his stuck-up friend William Darcy, things really start to get interesting for the Bennets—and for Lizzie’s viewers. But not everything happens on-screen. Lucky for us, Lizzie has a secret diary. The Secret Diary of Lizzie Bennet takes readers deep inside Lizzie’s world and well beyond the confines of her camera—from the wedding where she first meets William Darcy to the local hangout of Carter’s bar, and much more.

Lizzie’s private musings are filled with revealing details about the Bennet household, including her growing suspicions about her parents’ unstable financial situation, her sister’s budding relationship with Bing Lee, the perils of her unexpected fame, and her uncertainty over her future—and whom she wants to share it with. Featuring plenty of fresh twists to delight fans and new readers alike, The Secret Diary of Lizzie Bennet expands on the web series phenomenon that captivated a generation and reimagines the Pride and Prejudice story like never before. Children TD Canadian Children's Literature Award Finalist Mustafa and his family traveled a long way to reach their new home. Some nights Mustafa dreams about the country he used to live in, and he wakes up not knowing where he is. Then his mother takes him out to the balcony to see the moon — the same moon as in their old country. In the park, Mustafa sees ants and caterpillars and bees — they are the same, too. He encounters a “girl-with-a-cat,” who says something in a language that he can't understand. He watches an old lady feeding birds and other children playing, but he is always looking in from the outside and he feels that he is invisible. But one day, the girl-with-the-cat beckons to him, and Mustafa begins to become part of his new world. Marie-Louise Gay's remarkable ability to write and illustrate from the perspective of a young child is movingly exhibited in this gentle, thoughtful story about coming to feel at home in a new country. Este texto se constitui de um conjunto de indagações realizadas em algum momento da vida de cada autor.

Quantas perguntas são necessárias em nossas vidas para que possamos instigar mais dúvidas ou respostas provisórias em quem nos lê? Muitas são as reflexões pautadas em cada escrita, que resumem pensamentos carregados e intensificados pelos itinerários de vida dos autores, desde preocupações com categorias e conceitos que pautam a ciência geográfica e a relação dos mesmos com a sala de aula, até inquietações sobre metodologias epistêmicas e práticas reflexivas que moderam o ensinar a aprender Geografia. De forma transversal, outros assuntos constituem a tessitura da obra, como a reflexão sobre a importância das histórias de vida dos professores, o raciocínio geográfico na compreensão e leitura das invisibilidades espaciais, as diversidades presentes nos processos de aprendizagem, bem como diferentes experiências que se entrelaçam na contação e nas inquietações de cada um, como os estágios, o PIBID, as infâncias, entre tantos outros pensamentos que farão com que o leitor se encontre em algum ou muitos momentos da leitura.

A MEMOIR BY THE YOUNGEST RECIPIENT OF THE NOBEL PEACE PRIZE As seen on Netflix with David Letterman "I come from a country that was created at midnight. When I almost died it was just after midday." When the Taliban took control of the Swat Valley in Pakistan, one girl spoke out. Malala Yousafzai refused to be silenced and fought for her right to an education. On Tuesday, October 9, 2012, when she was fifteen, she almost paid the ultimate price. She was shot in the head at point-blank range while riding the bus home from school, and few expected her to survive. Instead, Malala's miraculous recovery has taken her on an extraordinary journey from a remote valley in northern Pakistan to the halls of the United Nations in New York. At sixteen, she became a global symbol of peaceful protest and the youngest nominee ever for the Nobel Peace Prize. I AM MALALA is the remarkable tale of a family uprooted by global terrorism, of the fight for girls' education, of a father who, himself a school owner, championed and encouraged his daughter to write and attend school, and of brave parents who have a fierce love for their daughter in a society that prizes sons. I AM MALALA will make you believe in the power of one person's voice to inspire change in the world.

The second edition of the Impact Evaluation in Practice handbook is a comprehensive and accessible introduction to impact evaluation for policy makers and development practitioners. First published in 2011, it has been used widely across the development and academic communities. The book incorporates real-world examples to present practical guidelines for designing and implementing impact evaluations. Readers will gain an understanding of impact evaluations and the best ways to use them to design evidence-based policies and programs. The updated version covers the newest techniques for evaluating programs and includes state-of-the-art implementation advice, as well as an expanded set of examples and case studies that draw on recent development challenges. It also includes new material on research ethics and partnerships to conduct impact evaluation. The handbook is divided into four sections: Part

One discusses what to evaluate and why; Part Two presents the main impact evaluation methods; Part Three addresses how to manage impact evaluations; Part Four reviews impact evaluation sampling and data collection. Case studies illustrate different applications of impact evaluations. The book links to complementary instructional material available online, including an applied case as well as questions and answers. The updated second edition will be a valuable resource for the international development community, universities, and policy makers looking to build better evidence around what works in development.

This book analyses the development of geography as a scientific discipline in Brazil, highlighting how the established partnerships with French geographers have helped shape scientific progress in the country. It connects economic development and politics with the study of geography in Brazil. The author, José Borzacchiello da Silva, includes interviews with renowned French geographers, documenting their insight into the French contribution to geography in Brazil. The research partnerships established have been significant to the foundation and growth of the discipline in the country.

Destina-se esta coleção a publicar textos resultantes da investigação de membros do projeto transnacional DIAITA: Património Alimentar da Lusofonia. As obras consistem em estudos aprofundados e, na maioria das vezes, de carácter interdisciplinar sobre uma temática fundamental para o desenhar de um património e identidade culturais comuns à população falante da língua portuguesa: a história e as culturas da alimentação. A pesquisa incide numa análise científica das fontes, sejam elas escritas, materiais ou iconográficas. Daí denominar-se a série DIAITA de Scripta - numa alusão tanto à tradução, ao estudo e à publicação de fontes (quer inéditas quer indisponíveis em português, caso dos textos clássicos, gregos e latinos, matriciais para o conhecimento do padrão alimentar mediterrânico), como a monografias. O subtítulo Realia, por seu lado, cobre publicações elaboradas na sequência de estudos sobre as “materialidades” que permitem conhecer a história e as culturas da alimentação no espaço lusófono.

O autor Edy Da Silva, como costuma ser chamado pelos seus amigos e supostos inimigos escondidos nas sombras como vampiros, escreveu este livro durante o recesso escolar do mês de agosto de um inverno goiano, como ele costuma dizer, e também, afirma nessas linhas gerais que este livro não pretende ser uma espécie de autobiografia de sua vida profissional enquanto professor da disciplina Geografia nas escolas públicas e privadas do DF. Não por acaso, o seu livro vai na contramão de uma dessas histórias do tipo “quando eu era professor a coisa funcionava assim e assado...”; essas coisas, segundo Edy, deixam marcas de um rancor desmedido e sem sentido: [...] eu diria, tangeriam para longe as críticas sérias levadas a cabo pelo conjunto de uma memória altruísta e tola, reprodutora, talvez, de uma realidade que circunscreveria o seu 'umbigo' e nada somaria à educação de nossos filhos, netas e outros agregados . Este é o professor de geografia que conhecemos: chamado de Edy Da Silva, seu atual codinome, busca uma autocrítica sem antes dizer uma auto-comiseração das coisas que nunca teve vontade de dizer sobre o que é lecionar a disciplina geografia escolar nas escolas da periferia de Brasília, mas agora o faz com grande maestria e conhecimento, pois ele escreveu este livro para professores que vão e para aqueles que estão chegando e ainda têm uma longa caminhada pela frente. Boa leitura para todos!

Man's Worldly Goods - The Story of The Wealth of Nations By Leo Huberman
Originally published in the 1930s, this is 'an attempt to explain history by economic theory, and economic theory by history'. It charts the path from feudalism to capitalism, and then looks beyond capitalism to a perceived socialist future. Many of the earliest books, particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before, are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive.

What are the links between environment and world view?

Topophilia, the affective bond between people and place, is the primary theme of this book that examines environmental perceptions and values at different levels: the species, the group, and the individual. Yi-Fu Tuan holds culture and environment and topophilia and environment as distinct in order to show how they mutually contribute to the formation of values. Topophilia examines the search for environment in the city, suburb, countryside, and wilderness from a dialectical perspective, distinguishes different types of environmental experience, and describes their character.

Debates in Geography Education encourages early career teachers, experienced teachers and teacher educators to engage with and reflect on key issues, concepts and debates. It aims to enable readers to reach their own informed judgements with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding. The second edition is fully updated in light of the latest research, policy and practice in the field, as well as key changes to the curriculum and examination specifications. Expert contributors provide a range of perspectives on international, historical and policy contexts in order to deepen our understanding of significant debates in geography education. Key debates include: geography's identity as an academic discipline; what constitutes knowledge in geography; places and regional geography; what it means to think geographically; constructing the curriculum; how we link assessment to making progress in geography; the contribution of fieldwork and outdoor experiences; technology and the use of Geographical Information; school geography and employability; understanding the gap between school and university geography; evidence-based practice and research in geography education. The comprehensive, rigorous coverage of these key issues, together with carefully annotated selected further reading, will help support and shape further research and writing. Debates in Geography Education is a key resource that is essential reading for all teachers and researches who wish to extend their grasp of the place of geography in education. Presidential Medal of Freedom Recipient Kahneman's work with Amos Tversky is the subject of Michael Lewis's The Undoing Project: A Friendship That Changed Our Minds. In the international bestseller, Thinking, Fast and Slow, Daniel Kahneman, the renowned psychologist and winner of the Nobel Prize in Economics, takes us on a groundbreaking tour of the mind and explains the two systems that drive the way we think. System 1 is fast, intuitive, and emotional; System 2 is slower, more deliberative, and more logical. The impact of overconfidence on corporate strategies, the difficulties of predicting what will make us happy in the future, the profound effect of cognitive biases on everything from playing the stock market to planning our next vacation—each of these can be understood only by knowing how the two systems shape our judgments and decisions. Engaging the reader in a lively conversation about how we think, Kahneman reveals where we can and cannot trust our intuitions and how we can tap into the benefits of slow thinking. He offers practical and enlightening insights into how choices are made in both our business and our personal lives—and how we can use different techniques to guard against the mental glitches that often get us into trouble. Winner of the National Academy of Sciences Best Book Award and the Los Angeles Times Book Prize and selected by

The New York Times Book Review as one of the ten best books of 2011, Thinking, Fast and Slow is destined to be a classic.
