Let's be Truthful Academic success is a ticket to achieve occupational, social and economic success. But, to succeed, you need the knowledge, skills, tools and the heart for it. Because... Success is an artwork, a creation, a masterpiece, a labour of passion. At the centre is, you. As a learner, you are the artist for your own success. You are the epicentre where all things begin. An artist cannot shape his vision and is next to almost nothing without his keen awareness, skills, tools, patience and his mission. Likewise, for you, if you are striving for academic excellence and life successes. The book is a powerhouse of data It contains data of over two decade's worth of knowledge, giving you inputs which you can apply in your studies or support you if you are working to achieve academic wellness, the short cut key to academic success. The book brings you closer to your learning environment including examinations with inputs which may change the way you learn, think, plan, prepare and write your examination to enhance your academic performance. This book endeavours to help you understand in totality the, what's, why's, where's and how's of learning, enhance your learning experience and enrich values. If you want to be successful in studies and desire to know how to get there. This book is for you.

This book is designed to help students on an 'A' Level, Advanced VCE or similar course to design and implement a Web site using Microsoft FrontPage 2002. FrontPage is a suitable software package for the project component in 'AS' level and Advanced VCE courses. Parts 1 to 2 of the book take the reader through the steps in creating and publishing a Web site both with and without the use of a wizard. Part 3 gives advice on all stages of project work from the definition of a suitable problem through to documentation. The book was written primarily for 'AS' and 'A' Level Information and Communication Technology students and contains in Appendix B the AQA mark scheme for 'AS' Module 3: Coursework. It will also be suitable for students on many other courses at different levels since the mark scheme, with minor variations, is one which applies to projects in many ICT courses. For a second year project in an 'A' Level course, data collected from a Web site can be exported and used in an Access database. This aspect could be developed further to fulfil the requirements of, for example, Module 6 of the AQA ICT specification. A sample project is included to show students how a complete project report may be laid out.

Teaching and learning in the 21st century have new implications for English language education since the core focus of learning in the 21st century involves collaboration, creativity, critical thinking and communication. Re-orientation of current curriculum, syllabus and content in English language education may be required and this could be attained by creating fundamental understanding of the concepts in relation to the main skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking), as well as other elements such as professional development of teachers, assessment and technology integration. This book aims to provide and facilitate such understanding to researchers, teachers, students and parents in deliberating, examining and resolving the main issues that beleaguer and challenge everyone and anyone involved in the teaching and learning in the 21st century. This volume draws together various researches, theoretical understandings, ideas and practices that reflect the above.
