Many people bring their lunch to work to save money, time and to help control what they are eating (with no hidden nasties from processed shop-bought food), but sometimes it's hard to think of interesting, nutritious things to make. Sara has come to the rescue with her vibrant, fun and inspirational approach to lunch boxes. She concentrates on having 5 clear elements: complex carbs, protein, fruit and veg, and sprinkles as well as the 5 colours used in authentic Japanese cooking: red, white, black, yellow and green. With just a few essential ingredients, you add your extras to create highly nutritious, vegetarian, colourful boxes of joy. Sara includes ideas for bento breakfast boxes (Sesame Snap Granola Bento and Mighty Muesli), 15-minute bento (Busy Days Instant Noodles and Lazy Tamago Bento), Everyday bento (Red Velvet Quinoa Bento, Green Theme Bento and Zen Bento) and the Fantasy bento (Starry Sky Bento and Fairy Jewel Box Bento). With tips on how to stock your bento store-cupboard and basic ingredients and recipes to get you going, now is the time for bento to bounce into your breakfast, lunch box, or even into your dinner parties, filling you with Bento Power! Organized like a cookbook, Books that Cook: The Making of a Literary Meal is a collection of American literature written on the theme of food: from an invocation to a final toast, from starters to desserts. All food literatures are indebted to the form and purpose of cookbooks, and each section begins with an excerpt from an influential American cookbook, progressing chronologically from the late 1700s through the present day, including such favorites as American Cookery, the Joy of Cooking, and Mastering the Art of French Cooking. The literary works within each section are an extension of these cookbooks, while the cookbook excerpts in turn become pieces of literature--forms of storytelling and memory-making all their own. Each section offers a delectable assortment of poetry, prose, and essays, and the selections all include at least one tempting recipe to entice readers to cook this book. Including writing from such notables as Maya Angelou, James Beard, Alice B. Toklas, Sherman Alexie, Nora Ephron, M.F.K. Fisher, and Alice Waters, among many others, Books that Cook reveals the range of ways authors incorporate recipes--whether the recipe flavors the story or the story serves to add spice to the recipe. Books that Cook is a collection to serve students and teachers of food studies as well as any epicure who enjoys a good meal alongside a good book.

Tomcat Tompkins blames the East Europeans for all the ills in the world - or the UK - as that's all the world he's interested in and he works hard to find them and send them home. This is a tongue-in-cheek look at the UK's Brexit with a detective story at its heart.

Merini, like Dante, represents the story of the Exodus of the Israelites from Egypt, in its literal and allegorical senses. The forty poems of The Holy Land recall Moses at Mount Sinai, the Israelites' forty years in the desert, and Jesus' fast in the wilderness. For Merini, it seems, the Holy Land is not the Promised Land of Canaan, but the forty years spent getting there, coming to terms with the terrifying atrocities of hell, the mystical ecstasies of paradise, and the "intense pain...of plunging back into the banality of daily living." Merini's wandering may be understood as the poet's search for the obscure laws which govern her visions, metamorphoses, and creations.

The bestselling cookbook that launched the career of the celebrity chef. "A nice introduction to French home cooking." —Library Journal Rachel Khoo moved to Paris, studied patisserie, fell in love with the city, became a restaurateur in a very tiny space, then, a television star, and is now a bestselling author! Not every lover of Paris experiences this career trajectory, but cooks of all skill levels with a taste for French fare will be inspired by The Little Paris Kitchen to try an updated approach to French cuisine. In this charming cookbook, Khoo demystifies French cooking with 120 enticing recipes for simple, classic, and fresh French dishes, from gouter (snacks) to elegant desserts. More than 100 breathtaking photos from celebrated photographer David Loftus shine a spotlight on the delicious food and the City of Light, and capture Khoo interacting with her purveyors and friends. We all can't have springtime in Paris. But we all can enjoy this delectable, do-able food! "The 'little kitchen' concept might be a considerable hindrance to most chefs, but Khoo has made the most of it." —The New York Times "Rachel is an inventive chef . . . who runs [supperclubs] to show off her immense culinary skill." —Huffington Post "Celebrating all that she had learned about classic French cooking with her own fresh approach, the book went on to be translated into fourteen languages. A wildly successful BBC television show followed, launching Rachel towards celebrity cook status." —Food52 "Pick a recipe, any recipe, and you can imagine that you are truly home, back in Paris." —Cooking by the Book

Schiscetta è un tipico termine milanese, nato negli anni '60-'70 quando tute blu e travet mangiavano sul posto di lavoro portandosi qualcosa da casa. Mettevano tutto in un contenitore di metallo, spesso schiacciando in strati - da qui viene il nome - il risotto e la classica cotoletta oppure il pollo e la pasta. Oggi il pratico contenitore diviene Lunch-Box o Schi-Chic, e torna in auge tra studenti e lavoratori attenti al portafoglio e ai buoni sapori. Sì, perché oggi portare il pranzo da casa è una tendenza seguita non solo da chi vuole risparmiare, ma soprattutto da chi preferisce consumare piatti sani ed equilibrati. In un libro originale e nuovo, dedicato al pranzo portato da casa, tante ricette facili e gustose.

This highly acclaimed atlas distills the vast science of climate change, providing a reliable and insightful guide to this rapidly growing field. Since the 2006 publication of the first edition, climate change has climbed even higher up the global agenda. This new edition reflects the latest developments in research and the impact of climate change, and in current efforts to mitigate and adapt to changes in the world's weather. The atlas covers a wide range of topics, including warning signs, vulnerable populations, health impacts, renewable energy, emissions reduction, personal and public action. The third edition includes new or additional coverage of a number of topics, including agreements reached in Copenhagen and Cancun, ocean warming and increased acidity, the economic impact of climate change, and advantages gained by communities and business from adapting to climate change. The extensive maps and graphics have been updated with new data, making this edition once again an essential resource for everyone concerned with this pressing subject.

Fantascienza - racconto lungo (47 pagine) - Riproduciti. Non uccidere. Non sprecare. Vivi in armonia con la Terra. Vivi in armonia con l'umanità. Nuovo mondo, nuovi comandamenti: da quando le nanoplastiche hanno reso sterili persone e animali, i sopravvissuti si sono riorganizzati in piccole comunità. Finché un giorno, in un villaggio tra le alpi Lepontine, le vestigia del vecchio mondo tornano a minacciare la quiete... Romina Braggion firma un racconto solarpunk originale e ricco di suggestioni, per mostrarci, lontano dal comune immaginario distopico, il volto inedito del post-apocalittico. Romina Braggion vive in provincia di Verbania, a due passi dal Lago Maggiore e a quattro dalle amate montagne Ossolane. Da quasi cinquant'anni svolge la professione di absolute beginner, distinguendosi nell'autodidattica. Inoltre si occupa di comunicazione per una fonderia di alluminio. Ha un blog in cui parla di fantascienza, meglio se italiana, e porta avanti un progetto di condivisione della memoria delle scrittrici: La Metà del Mondo. Per il sito Leggere Distopico recensisce libri di fantascienza e di altri generi. Collabora con un paio di associazioni culturali della sua città dando una mano nell'organizzazione di piccoli eventi. Il suo primo racconto è stato segnalato al concorso "Iniziamo da qui!" di Spunto Edizioni, il secondo inviato ha avuto una sorte oscura e il terzo viene pubblicato nel febbraio 2020 nella collana Futuro Presente di Delos Digital. Altri suoi racconti si possono trovare in contest letterari online. Ha qualche passione e innumerevoli interessi e, prima o poi, dovrà decidere cosa fare da grande.

This exciting adventure story follows a family of slaves in the USA in 1860 as they escape from a cotton plantation via the legendary Underground Railroad. An enthralling story of courage and resilience, centring on 10-year-old Tommy, it will fascinate children who might not know much about this secret escape route into Canada that was used by as many as 100,000 people. Ten-year-old Tommy roams the cotton fields of Alabama owned by the notorious Captain Archer. Intimidating guards with fierce dogs protect the land to prevent any slaves from leaving. That is until a supernatural spirit visits Tommy offering a way out. With his banjo slung over his shoulder, Peg Leg Joe guides Tommy, his family and other slaves out of Southern USA, and into Canada through the legendary Underground Railroads. Stretched for miles across the country's vastness, the network famously facilitated more than 100,000 slaves to a new life. For Tommy and his family, the escape is far from an easy ride. The young boy is forced to mature through this testing period and allow his strong will to guide himself and others to safety under the guidance of Peg Leg Joe. Set in the 19th century, D'Adamo's well-constructed novel tells a story distant in time, remains grounded in a reality that still exists today. Millions of people across the globe continue to be enslaved, including children.

It is the wet season in the Australian outback. Drunk and delirious, an old ex-pilot known as "Pisspot Stevie" lies dying in a remote cabin in the Queensland bush. When a priest named Roger Hargreaves comes upon him, Stevie is smoking opium to relieve the pain of his last moments. The priest listens as Stevie, in an opium-fueled haze, begins to describe a very different life he once lived—not in the past, but decades in the future, as a mixed-race aviator who finds love and glory in service to the Queen. After Stevie's death, as Hargreaves tries to sort dream from reality, he makes discoveries that cause him to wonder if he has been granted a glimpse beyond the veil.

* What roles do hospitals play in the health care system and how are these roles changing? * If hospitals are to optimize health gains and respond to public expectations, how should they be configured, managed, and sustained? * What lessons emerge from experiences of changing hospital systems across Europe? Hospitals of the future will confront difficult challenges: new patterns of disease, rapidly evolving medical technologies, ageing populations, and continuing budget constraints. This book explores the competing pressures facing policymakers across Europe as they struggle to respond to these complex challenges. It argues that hospitals, as part of a larger health system, should focus on enhancing health outcomes while also responding to public expectations. Adopting a cross-national, cross-disciplinary perspective, the study assesses recent evidence on the factors driving hospital reform and the strategies used to improve organizational performance. It reviews the evidence from eastern as well as western Europe and combines academic research with real-world policy experience. It looks at the role of hospitals in enhancing health rather than simply processing patients. The book concludes that hospitals cannot be managed in isolation from society and the wider health system, and that policymakers have a responsibility to define the broader health care goals that hospitals should strive to meet. Hospitals in a Changing Europe synthesizes current evidence in a readable and accessible form for all practitioners, policy-makers, academics and graduate level students concerned with health reform.
