The desire to create this book began in 1985 when the words "Help My People" were whispered in the author's ear. That began a thirty-five-year journey to determine what was meant by that phrase. It happened once more about ten years later. In the meantime, the author and his wife, as well as others, proceeded to create a consulting firm that helped client organizations do a better job to create the kind of organization culture the frontline workers mostly said they wanted. The consulting business prospered, and the author thought for sure he was the one that the whisper was meant to help change in his dealings with his clients. That all changed! The word "my" shifted to the center of the RGBProZone—a productivity zone comprised of groups that surround an individual capable of influencing others in a positive way because they think differently, thus filling voids. The meaning shifted from the one who had whispered in the author's ear that day in 1985, to everyone having influence over others, backed by authority or reciprocal trust in the direction they were headed. The "my" pertained to the husband and the wife, the parent and children, managers, workers, neighbors, and those with authority and those without. This book traces the step-by-step process used to begin where you are and never end. It is the over thirty-five-year history of the author and his family, friends, associates, and clients. It begins anew with a new whisper that inspires. Most importantly, it contains a process that shifts the responsibility for change from the driver to include the driven. From organization leadership to those who work together for mutual success. Included is a ten-stage one- to three-year time line to help create a new reality.

Tips and techniques to build interactive learning into lecture classes Have you ever looked out across your students only to find them staring at their computers or smartphones rather than listening attentively to you? Have you ever wondered what you could do to encourage students to resist distractions and focus on the information you are presenting? Have you ever wished you could help students become active learners as they listen to you lecture? Interactive Lecturing is designed to help faculty members more effectively lecture. This practical resource addresses such pertinent questions as, “How can lecture presentations be more engaging?” “How can we help students learn actively during lecture instead of just sitting and passively listening the entire time?” Renowned authors Elizabeth F. Barkley and Claire H. Major provide practical tips on creating and delivering engaging lectures as well as concrete techniques to help teachers ensure students are active and fully engaged participants in the learning process before, during, and after lecture presentations. Research shows that most college faculty still rely predominantly on traditional lectures as their preferred teaching technique. Interactive Lecturing combines engaging presentation tips with active learning techniques specifically chosen to help students learn as they listen to a lecture. It is a proven teaching and learning strategy that can be readily incorporated into every teacher’s methods. In addition to providing a synthesis of relevant, contemporary research and theory on lecturing as it relates to teaching and learning, this book features 53 tips on how to deliver engaging presentations and 32 techniques you can assign students to do to support their learning during your lecture. The tips and techniques can be used across instructional methods and academic disciplines both onsite (including small lectures and large lecture halls) as well as in online courses. This book is a focused, up-to-date resource that draws on collective wisdom from scholarship and practice. It will become a well-used and welcome addition for everyone dedicated to effective teaching in higher education.
