This is a volume of the collected papers given by 30 specialist contributors at an international conference held in the British Museum in April 1995. The focus is on the materials, techniques, iconography, patronage and trade of gilded and enamelled glass of 13th-15th century Egypt and Syria, as well as the origins of the technique in the Byzantine and early Islamic periods and its influence on production in Venice and other European sites between the 14th and 19th centuries.

Contributors include archaeologists, art historians, historians, scientists, and glassmakers from Cairo, Jerusalem, St Petersburg, New York, Berlin, Bonn, Hamburg, Granada, Venice, Dublin, Sheffield, Bristol, Edinburgh, and London.

Life can dish out some nasty circumstances:
we get fired, suddenly
lose someone we love or get really ill. Deidre Combs provides eight practical techniques to overcome difficult
times by drawing from twenty years of cross-
cultural research and consulting.

Recognizing that tough times are universally referred to as battles
or death and rebirth experiences, she integrates perennial
conflict resolution and death/mourning cultural practices into simple approaches to help us reach stability once more. Combs introduces the four key phases of tough times and how to move through each with greater ease and support.

Immacolata Selva,

detta Imma,

accompagna la sorella

Irene alla sua festa di laurea nel gotico locale

da ballo Chateau

Perverse, dove intende

conquistare un giovane

laurando di cui e`

invaghita. Quando

Imma scopre che il

bell'Alonso ha una

ragazza, e Irene la

snobba apertamente

davanti alle amiche,

non le resta altro da

fare che visitare il

castello, una bellissima

struttura del

sedicesimo secolo, che nasconde un sordido segreto. Nella cripta tenebrosa del castello, Imma si ritrova spettatrice di uno degli incontri segreti della setta dei Castigatori, i cui adepti sono dediti a pratiche BDSM e di sesso di gruppo. L'innocente Imma diventa testimone di pratiche sessuali estreme, che a poco a poco la intrigano, finché si convince a lasciarsi iniziare a un repertorio di piaceri proibiti. Schiava dei suoi iniziatori, Imma si spinge oltre i propri limiti, e quando l'alba la sorprende, è tutt'altro che immacolata! * Questa novella erotica contiene descrizioni di sesso particolareggiate scritte allo scopo di creare eccitazione sessuale nel lettore adulto.

Billy Budd and the Encantadas Black Lilit Books

Emotions Run Wild is a collection of poems written between May 2000 and June 2001 chronicling the end of the love relationship with one person and the great emotional effect it had on the poet. Inspirations came from many different people and events during this year in time. Emotions Run Wild reveals someone who is greatly depressed; nothing was going in this person's favor. Emotions Run Wild shows how deep emotional love, hate and depression can affect one's life, and how we all must struggle to pull ourselves out of hard times.

In Discovering the Mind of Women husbands learn to understand their wives as Christ would. From this point they learn to respond to their wives in a consistent Christlike manner. A radically transformed and renewed marriage is the result. Drawing from his own story and the stories of husbands whose marriages were dissolving, Ken Nair reveals major problems in life and marriage. After discussing the problems, he reveals relationship altering concepts which not only will revive a marriage, they will radiate throughout couple's lives as well.

Lorna Crozier's radical imagination, and the finely tuned emotional intelligence that is revealed in the clarity of her poetry, have made her one of Canada's most popular poets. Before the First Word: The Poetry of Lorna Crozier is a collection of thirty-five of her best poems, selected and introduced by Catherine Hunter, and includes an afterword by Crozier herself. Representing her work from 1985 to 2002, the collection reveals the wide range of Lorna Crozier's voice in its most lyrical, contemplative, ironic, and witty moments.

Hunter's introduction discusses the poet's major themes, with particular attention to her feminist approach to biblical myth and her fascination with absence and silence as sites for imaginative revision. Crozier's afterword, "See How Many Ends This Stick Has: A Reflection on Poetry," is a lyrical meditation that provides an inspirational glimpse into the philosophy of a writer who prizes the intensity of awareness that poetry demands, and is tantalized by what predates speaking and all that cant be named. An engaging volume that will appeal to undergraduate students as well as general readers of poetry. Lorna Crozier's work has won many awards, including the Governor Generals Award in 1992 (for Inventing the Hawk), the first prize for poetry in the CBC Literary Competition, the Canadian Authors Association Award for Poetry in 1992, a National Magazine Award in 1995, and two Pat Lowther Memorial Awards (1993 and 1996) for the best book of poetry by a Canadian woman. She has published fourteen books of poetry, most recently, Whetstone. Born in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, she now lives in British Columbia, where she is a Distinguished Professor at the University of Victoria. The Art Thief Wilfrid Laurier Univ. Press Hugh Gaine was a Colonial New York

printer who in the second year of the American Revolution first allied his press to the American cause, then deserted to publish his newspaper for the British. This first book-length biography of Gaine contributes substantially to our knowledge of journalism in the Colonial period and provides fascinating insights into life in Revolutionary times. Gaine was more than a turncoat American, Lorenz shows. From his reading of the files of Gaine's newspaper, from unpublished material, and from a wide variety of printed sources, Lorenz has pieced together this study of economic and political conservatism, religious belief, and social class feelings which made Gaine a prototypical Loyalist to the British cause, though a citizen, or at least a resident, of the United States, to the end of his days, in 1807.

Herman Melville (1819-1891) was an American novelist, short story writer, essayist, and poet. His "Moby-Dick" -- considered a failure during his lifetime, responsible for Melville's fall from favor with the reading public -- was rediscovered in the 20th century as a masterpiece of literature.
