One hundred of the most evocative modern poems on joy, selected by an award-winning contemporary poet "Bursting with energy and surprising locutions. . . . Even the most familiar poets seem somehow new within the context of Joy."--David Skeel, Wall Street Journal "Wiman takes readers through the ostensible ordinariness of life and reveals the extraordinary."--Adrianna Smith, The Atlantic Christian Wiman, a poet known for his meditations on mortality, has long been fascinated by joy and by its relative absence in modern literature. Why is joy so resistant to language? How has it become so suspect in our times? Manipulated by advertisers, religious leaders, and politicians, joy can seem disquieting, even offensive. How does one speak of joy amid such ubiquitous injustice and suffering in the world? In this revelatory anthology, Wiman takes readers on a profound and surprising journey through some of the most underexplored terrain in contemporary life. Rather than define joy for readers, he wants them to experience it. Ranging from Emily Dickinson to Mahmoud Darwish and from Sylvia Plath to Wendell Berry, he brings together diverse and provocative works as a kind of counter to the old, modernist maxim "light writes white"--no agony, no art. His rich selections awaken us to the essential role joy plays in human life.

This book examines emerging debates and questions around cycling to critically analyse and challenge dominant framings and prevalent conventions of 'good cycling'. Cycling Societies brings to light the plurality of voices and forms of cycling in other societies, revealing the diversity and complexity of cycling across different socio-political regimes, geographies and cultures. It presents case studies from five continents and demonstrates the need of thinking comparatively about cycling and urban environments. The book pivots around the three themes of innovations, inequalities and governance and engages a diversity of voices: world-renowned academics in the field of cycling and urban mobility, cycling activists and transportation consultants. Synthesising academic contributions with policy briefs, this innovative book will be of great interest to students, scholars and practitioners of sustainable transportation, urban planning and mobility studies.

CLICK HERE to download the first 50 pages from Fiva "A wonderful, nostalgic, gripping, classic yarn with great humour." —Joe Simpson, author of Touching the Void * A classic tale of how youthful bravado leads to serious trouble * Winner, Mountain Literature Award, Banff Festival 2012 * Finalist, Boardman-Tasker Prize for Mountain Literature, 2012 In 1969, teenage twin brothers Gordon and John Stainforth set out from their home in Hertfordshire, England, to climb the highest rock face in Europe — Norway's Troll Wall. The route they targeted is called "Fiva" (pronounced "fever"). Poor judges of their own abilities, experience, and gear, they began the climb convinced they would return to their tent in time for afternoon tea. Within hours of starting the route, things went terribly wrong. Fiva is the story that Gordon Stainforth lived to tell, 40 years later. While it's a tale that climbers will embrace, the adventure is one that all readers of non-fiction adventure will enjoy and find absorbing. It's a story of innocence, brotherly love, youthful folly, and of danger, danger, and more danger.

La tensión al tocar es un pasajero indeseado en nuestro viaje como trompetistas. Es imposible dejarla en tierra, siempre nos acompaña. Lo malo es que si no le ponemos límites, día a día le irá robando su comodidad. Y si se lo permitimos, puede ser que en un momento indeterminado de su carrera, la tensión se haya acumulado de tal forma, que sea ella quien viaje cómodamente, mientras usted, desesperado, intenta buscar soluciones a sus problemas. Ese pasajero indeseado se llama: Tensión acumulada. ¿Sabía que este fenómeno suele ser el responsable del deterioro paulatino de casi todos los aspectos técnicos del instrumento, pasando por el sonido hasta las fatigas musculares extremas? - Tengo dura la embocadura. - No tengo fuerza al tocar. - Se me está poniendo el sonido "chillón" y cambia el timbre en todos los registros. - Tengo muchas impurezas en el sonido. - Siento que no puedo atacar como antes. - He perdido flexibilidad. - Me canso muy rápido. - Me cuesta más y más afinar. - He perdido el control sobre la dinámica. - Estoy perdiendo el registro. - Se me están abriendo los labios. - Me levanté hoy y no puedo tocar, nada me funciona, pareciera que no se tocar la trompeta, estoy desesperado. Si usted se ve reflejado en esta triste lista, entonces este libro le podría servir de ayuda. Brasstactic II. El Ciclo Tensión - Relajación pretende que usted incorpore a su rutina de estudio una serie de ejercicios (físicos y musicales) que le permitirán librarse de los efectos nocivos de la tensión acumulada. Estos ejercicios también le ayudarán a lograr un libre flujo de aire y una ejecución del instrumento bastante más eficiente. Recuerde, el viajero que debe viajar en primera clase es usted, la tensión, si lo desea, puede marcharse caminando. ¡Disfrute de este viaje!

Manhattan Mayhem

The accumulated tension is an unwanted passenger on our trip as a trumpet player. It is impossible to let it lay; day by day, it will steal your comfort to play. Did you know that this phenomenon is usually responsible for the gradual deterioration of almost all technical aspects of the instrument? Brasstactic II. The Tension - Release Cycle aims to incorporate a routine into your practice; a series of exercises (physical and musical) that will allow you to rid yourself of the harmful effects of accumulated tension. These exercises will also help you achieve a freer flow of air, more range, and much more efficient playing. And, perhaps a new perception of the instrument. The one who travels first class is you, not the accumulated tension. Enjoy the trip!
