Papers from a recent conference highlight the need for emission reduction strategies and technologies in transport and offhighway mobile machinery. They address issues faced by vehicle machine and engine manufacturers regarding future emission legislation, and discuss technical strategy together with the likely direction that research will take in response to these legislative demands. Focus is on reciprocating engines and their application challenges, with additional coverage of measurement techniques, installation dilemmas, and legislation trends. Specific subjects include hybrid power train systems, an injection natural gas engine for light-duty applications, and evaporative emission systems. Of interest to those working in industries involving combustion systems, fuel and air systems, engine design, and vehicle and machine systems. Lacks a subject index. c. Book News Inc.

This book is intended to serve as a comprehensive reference on the design and development of diesel engines. It talks about combustion and gas exchange processes with important references to emissions and fuel consumption and descriptions of the design of various parts of an engine, its coolants and lubricants, and emission control and optimization techniques. Some of the topics covered are turbocharging and supercharging, noise and vibrational control, emission and combustion control, and the future of heavy duty diesel engines. This volume will be of interest to researchers and professionals working in this area.
