Approaches to Leadership

The main difference is that situational theory tends to focus more on the behaviors that the leader should adopt, given situational factors (often about follower behavior), whereas contingency theory takes a broader view that includes contingent factors about leader capability and other variables within the situation. Overview

The contingency theory of leadership was one of the first situational leadership theories. One of the very first contingency theories was proposed by Fred. E. Fiedler in the 1960s. Fiedler's theory proposes that a leader's effectiveness hinges on how well his or her leadership style matches the current context and task. Fiedler's pioneering theory suggests that leaders fall into one of two different leadership styles: task-oriented or people-oriented.
